

CGG, Inc.

Consultants for the Greater Good

In pursuit of the greater good, the consultants at CGG, Inc. strive to provide small and midsize nonprofit organizations with consulting services of the highest quality.

CGG, Inc. looks beyond skill sets when employing consultants. When a client engages our services they are supplied with more than an expert; they receive a leader.

Our goal is to provide quality nonprofit consulting services to organizations that would normally not be able to afford consultants.

Elliot Loyd Griggs, MPP
President & Strategy Consultant

At CGG, Inc., we offer our nonprofit clients many consulting options and allow nonprofit executives to choose which consulting services they wish to utilize. Currently, all CGG, Inc. consulting services are pro bono to small nonprofit owners.

Transparency is the foremost distinguishing feature of CGG, Inc. We provide each client with a complete list of services our consultants have mastered. What you see is what you get, quality consulting services.

CGG, Inc. focuses on the four main pillars of running a successful nonprofit: management; strategy; fundraising; and research. CGG, Inc. will create a way to development and maintain each discipline while never deviating from its mission to provide quality-consulting services for the greater good.
